Q: Conditional compilation error I wrote a file called foobar.h. I have two compilations, Debug and Release. I'm getting the following compilation error: Error 24 error C4250:'std::setw' : nested name specifier is not allowed foobar.h #ifdef DEBUG # define DEBUG #endif #ifdef RELEASE # define RELEASE #endif #include "someOtherCode.h" someOtherCode.h #ifdef DEBUG # include "foobar.h" #endif #ifdef RELEASE # include "foobar.h" #endif These headers are include by several different files. Is it a problem if foobar.h is included multiple times? And what could be the reason for this compilation error? A: This will work if you forward declare foobar.h in someOtherCode.h and not include foobar.h. //
